The report that a general shut-down of the

Bessemer steel-rail business would take place to-day, and that 25,000 men would become idle, was erroueous. No such action was contemplated on the part of the manufacturers.

Mr. Hatfield, of the Thomas Iron Comments. Several round tables, covered with green veivet, with silver-mounted slits, were purchased by strangers.

Mr. James W. Boyle bought a large systerpany, when questioned with regard to the matter, said that the report of a general cessation of the manufacture of steel rails was wholly unwarranted. He said that at this season He said that at this season of the year, and especially during the month of December, the number of orders is necessarily small owing to the cessation of building railroads in the North. The only winter

Mr. Hatfield further said that a large number of the works would close for perhaps a week during the month for the purpose of making necessary repairs, and also for the purpose of limiting the production in the dull season. Only two or three of the smaller works are now idle. He predicted that there would be an increased demand in January, and that the price would advance steadily.

Although the sill of a fourth-story window of the Conit is thought that Mrs. Wetherell will be brought safely through it. It will be a very long time before she is able to work again, if she does recover. The operation will take place at about 3 o'clock, and will come under the care of Dr. Weir's clinic. It is technically known as amputation epithli-oma of foot. The log will be cut between the ankle and the knee joint. Several actresses are still interesting themselves on Mrs. Witherell's behalf, and she needs help greatly, as her savings have been exhausted.

REMOVED A FACIAL NERVE.

Dr. Porter, of Boston, Performs a Remarkable Surgical Operation. IMPECIAL TO THE WORLD.

Boston, Dec. 1 .- Dr. Porter, of the Massa chusetts General Hospital, one of the most skilful surgeons in the country, performed yesterday a very remarkable operation, removing the facial nerve from a patient whose existence for many years had been simply one of torture on account of his extreme suffering from neuralgic pains in his face. It was decided that the only remedy, a heroic one, was the removal of the diseased nerve from the face. He willingly submitted to the operation.

In beginning the operation Dr. Porter made an incision at the angle of the jaw, or where it hinges on the skull. The jaw-bone being laid bare, the part where the mental foramen is located was trepanned. This being exposed to view the doctor proceeded to catch hold of the diseased nerve, and by a slight exertion pulled it out of the foramen. Next an incision was made under the eye, laying been simply one of torture on account of his
